UTILIZACIÓN DE LOS SAMPLES

Utilice el CD incluido en "El Triángulo de las Bermudas" reproduciéndolo a través de un PC o un reproductor de CD. Se deben emplear 2 altavoces de gran potencia (importante que estén bien ecualizados) colocados a los lados del escenario para que la utilización del estéreo tenga efecto. Es recomendable que estos altavoces estén colocados al fondo del escenario, es decir, en la zona de los instrumentos de percusión, de esta manera los músicos y el director escucharán directamente los samples. Si esto no fuera posible y se tuvieran que colocar delante del escenario cerca del público, se deben utilizar unos monitores para que la banda pueda escuchar el CD. Será de gran ayuda que la persona que dispare estos samples sea un miembro de la banda, ya que tiene que estar en contacto directo con las indicaciones del director.

El director deberá estar provisto de un cronómetro para poder sincronizar la música con los samples. Véanse las sincronizaciones en la partitura.

II mov. Bermuda, la isla del amor eterno.

Track 1. La música debe coincidir con el comienzo del track 1. En letra "A" los samples reproducen unos sonidos inspirados en el ambiente de una isla. Si se sigue correctamente el tempo de negra 64 el cambio en letra "A" será perfecto, aproximadamente en 0:28. En este nuevo fragmento es imprescindible seguir el tempo de negra 96, de esta manera los samples finalizarán en FADE OUT pasados unos compases del "iluminante".

Cadencia. (Imprescindible la utilización de un cronómetro)

Track 2. El director indicará al músico encargado de los samples la entrada ya que deben estar perfectamente sincronizados con el cronómetro que el director deberá llevar. Después de sonar 10 segundos el pianista comienza a tocar haciendo coincidir la entrada del "Con calore" con el segundo 12. Fíjese en que la partitura incluye un minutaje de referencia por si la banda se hubiese retrasado o adelantado. El punto crucial de este movimiento de estilo cadencial está en letra "B". Debe coincidir el sonido en el que parece chocar un avión con el compás. Dos compases antes debe aparecer en el cronómetro 1:04, si pasase más tiempo no podríamos hacer nada para remediar la descoordinación. En el caso de que, por ejemplo el cronómetro marque 1:02 la solución a este problema sería hacer un pequeño cambio para que de esta manera hagamos coincidir el minuto 1:06 (letra "B") con la aparición del avión.

III mov. Final

Track 3. Comenzar la pista después de llegar al calcedón. En el momento en que el ritmo electrónico es letra "A". En este caso el director deberá seguir el ritmo presionado por los samples. Aquí se encuentra la importancia de que los músicos escuchen perfectamente este ritmo secuenciado.

USE OF SAMPLES

Use the CD included in "The Bermuda Triangle" to play it through a PC or a CD player. Should be used 2 high-powered speakers (it's important to be well equalized) placed on the sides of the stage so that the use of stereo to take effect. It is recommended that these speakers are placed at the back of the stage, in the area of percussion instruments, so the musicians and the conductor will listen directly samples. If this is not possible and would be placed in front of the stage near the audience, you must use a monitor to the wind orchestra and the director can hear the CD. It will be very helpful if the person who shot these samples is a member of the band, because it has to be in direct contact with conductor.

The conductor must be equipped with a timer to synchronize the music with the samples. See synchronizations in the score.

II mov. Bermuda, the island of eternal love.

Track 1. The music must match the beginning of track 1. In the letter "A" samples reproduce some sounds inspired by the ambience of an island. If it continues to be the correct tempo of quarter note = 64, the change in letter "A" will be perfect, at approximately 0:28. In this fragment is essential to follow the tempo of quarter note = 96, so the samples were completed in FADE OUT after a few bars of "illuminante."

Cadence. (Must use a stopwatch)

Track 2. The Director said the musician in charge of the samples into and to be perfectly synchronized with the clock that the director should use. After 10 seconds of samples the pianist begins to play by matching the entry of "Con calore" to 12 seconds. Note that the score includes a reference synchronizations if the wind orchestra had fallen behind or ahead. The crux of this cadencial movement is in letter "B". Must match the sound that seems a plane crash with this bar. Two bars before should appear in the stopwatch 1:04. If more time we could not do anything to remedy the lack. In the event that the stopwatch mark the solution to this problem would be to make a small fermata in this way to make the match minutes 1:06 (letter "B") with the wind orchestra.

III mov. End

Track 3. Start the track 3 after the fermata. At the moment in which the electronic rhythm is letter "A". In this movement the conductor must continue to follow the samples. Here lies the importance of the musicians very well listen to this sequenced rhythm.
